

NORMAL CONDITIONS RETURN SLOWLY TO TROUBLED SPAIN — SPANISH MONARCHY EMERGES VICTOR AFTER WEEK OF INSURRECTION

Madrid, Dec. 17.—(A.P.)—The Spanish monarchy and the government of Premier General Damaso Berenguer emerged clear victors today from a week of insurrection and republican agitation, but in general nation-wide unrest there still remained a threat foreboding to both.

Dispatches from all over Spain today indicated returning normal conditions and lapsing of the general strike which followed the military revolts at Jaca and Cuatro Vientos. Despite the censorship the messages do not appear to have been greatly tampered with, and have the ring of essential truth about them.

There are no advices from Valencia, where border reports in both France and Portugal yesterday said the revolutionaries had taken control, executing three loyal generals. Government officials still feel some anxiety with regard to the situation at Alicante and there were some disorders yesterday at Gijon, where one person was killed, but elsewhere the situation is much quieter.

King Alfonso, Spain's 44-year-old monarch, himself directed the operations which resulted in the defeat of the revolutionary movement, it was learned today on good authority.

The Spanish ruler, who has been king since the day of his birth, last Monday insisted on personally leading the government troops into action against the insurgents and was restrained with difficulty by his advisers.

His right hand, Premier General Berenguer, has collapsed with a severe case of tonsillitis and is very ill, but his condition is not thought serious.

TRIANGULAR FIGHT FOR LEADERSHIP IN O.N.T. LIBERAL PARTY — HEPBURN, SINCLAIR AND PHILPOTT CANDIDATES FOR POSITION

Toronto, Dec. 17.—(Can. Press.)—The hat of M. F. Hepburn, member of the house of commons for West Elgin, was in the ring today for the leadership of the Ontario Liberal party. This development, result of an early morning conference of about 100 Hepburn supporters, dispelled local news paper reports that Mr. Hepburn would not be a candidate at the Liberal convention concluding here today.

The fight for the leadership is now a triangular one, the other aspirants being W. E. N. Sinclair, K. C., temporary leader of the party since 1923, and Elmore Philpott, member of the Toronto Globe editorial staff.

general strike which appeared to be spreading despite the proclamation of martial law throughout the country. There were serious riots at Santander and those who could were fleeing across the frontier into France.

Why expect our great minds to overcome wet spots when they can't even cure bald spots?

INSURGENTS ARE GAINING UPPER HAND IN SPAIN — DISPATCHES STATE SPANISH FOREIGN LEGION FROM MOROCCO TO BATTLE REBELS

London, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—A Paris dispatch to the London Daily Mail today said official quarters had received information that the Spanish insurgents were gaining the upper hand and that King Alfonso might leave Madrid today.

Gibraltar dispatches stated the Spanish government had called part of the famous Spanish Foreign Legion out of Morocco to combat the revolutionary movement.

Wealthy Leave Spain
San Sebastian, Spain, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—Private cars and taxicabs today choked the highway along which King Alfonso motored to Biarritz in more peaceful times, for the wealthy of San Sebastian were flocking out of Spain across the French frontier.

Most of them were headed for Saint Jean De Luz, France, where already many others have taken refuge.

Make No Demand
Madrid, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—Authorities on international law here believe that Spain, adhering to precedent, will make no demand for extradition of Major Ramon Franco and his associates in yesterday's abortive revolutionary attempt who have taken refuge in Portugal and are interned at Lisbon.

In diplomatic circles it was pointed out that the crimes, if any, of these men were purely of a political nature and as such were not extraditable offenses.

SOVIETS PLAN STRICT CONTROL OF LABOR

Moscow, Dec. 17.—(A.P.)—Strict control of labor within the U.S.S.R., was announced by the central executive committee of the union in a decree published today.

During the third year of the five-year plan, according to the decree, there will be no changing of jobs by workers, technicians and others except with the formal permission of the authorities. Salaries and wages for each particular job will be the same throughout the nation, thereby eliminating all competition for labor, which was marked last year.

GOVERNMENT AFFAIRS KEEP PREMIER BUSY ACTION OF AUTHORITIES ON WHEAT SITUATION REMAINS AS CONJECTURE

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 16.—(By the Canadian Press)—Intense activity is marking the second day of resumption of official duties in the capital by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett. A series of appointments, including a visit from Sir William Clarke, British high commissioner, voluminous correspondence, a cabinet meeting late today and a government dinner tonight to Hon. Parker Maloney, Australian minister of markets—all these are among matters engaging the prime minister today.

The wheat situation is again before the government today. The new manager of the wheat pool, John I. McFarland, is still in the city and will see some of the ministers before his departure for the west tonight. On the possible action which may be taken conjecture continues; but certainly nothing definite in nature has been decided upon.

Bennett Wires Brownlee
Edmonton, Dec. 16.—Premier Brownlee has received a wire from Hon. R. B. Bennett to the effect that he is making certain inquiries into the wheat market situation and will keep him advised as to such further developments as may take place. This is in reply to a message that Mr. Brownlee sent to the prime minister a few days ago, setting forth the views of the Alberta government in the matter and requesting that there be opportunity for consultation in respect to any policies that may be contemplated in the way of meeting the situation.

While no date has yet been named for a conference of the prairie premiers with the Dominion authorities, Premier Brownlee is holding himself in readiness for a call to Ottawa, but it is regarded as doubtful if there will now be any such conference before Christmas. In view of the provincial government's interest in the whole question, a request has been made for a hearing of the Alberta case, and it is expected that an inter-provincial meeting will be arranged by Mr. Bennett in the near future.

FORTUNE HIDDEN IN 'PEG' ASH CANS—BANK LOOT TO TALLING $10,000 SOUGHT BY DETECTIVES—PART RECOVERED

Winnipeg, Dec. 16.—(Can. Press.)—Hidden in ash cans in various parts of the city, a small fortune is sought by police searchers today. It is part of the loot obtained when a bandit quartet raided the Logan avenue branch of the Bank of Montreal last Friday, escaping with $10,000.

Several of the treasure-laden cans have been located and a considerable sum of currency recovered, and search for the remaining continued under the direction of headquarters detectives this morning.

In city court this morning, the quartet faced Magistrate R. B. Graham and each pleaded guilty to the robbery, and were remanded until December 18 for sentence.

The arrest of the four bandits marked another victory for local police in the campaign against banditry. Quick police work landed two of the robbers in jail Saturday, within 24 hours of the robbery, and the second pair were captured in a downtown rooming house early Monday morning.

NOT QUITE SO CERTAIN

Dr. Robert A. Millikan, who surprised the scientific world some time ago by discovering the existence of mysterious cosmic rays, now announces that he believes these rays can be put to work.

Finishing a summer devoted to the study of these rays, Dr. Millikan says that the rays can be used in a new kind of barometer, so that the science of weather forecasting can be extended.

It is interesting to think that this strange force which was undreamed of a few years ago will shortly be in harness as prosaically as any waterfall in a mill town; but much more interesting are the attempts of various scientists to explain just what these cosmic rays may be.

Dr. Millikan believes that they come from the tremendous energies expended in the creation of matter somewhere in the profound abyss of space. He also believes that the rays themselves are other waves of frequencies a thousand times those of X-Rays.

However, there are other scientists who believe that the rays come, not from the creation of matter, but from the annihilation of matter, probably in the centres of distant stars. Furthermore, they doubt that they are other waves at all, maintaining instead that they are high speed electrons.

All of this, of course, is quite meaningless to most of us. It is beyond our capacity to get more than a glimmering of the nature of these rays. If they can be put to work in barometers, well and good; we shall bother our heads no more with them.

WORRY FOR A MOTHER

Mothers of adventurous young boys are bound to get some anxious moments every now and then. Adventurous young boys are that way. But consider the plight of the mother of that Cleveland lad who ran away from home recently.

This youngster wound up in Chicago, broke. He went boldly to Al Capone's house and asked for help. Capone's brother took him in, entertained him—and then called the boy's mother in Cleveland to tell her where he was!

Now imagine being a mother, with a missing son over whom you have worried for a couple of days—and being summoned to the telephone to learn that he is visiting in the home of Al Capone! Can you wonder that the lady frantically called the Chicago police? Or that her husband hopped the next airplane to Chicago to bring the boy back?

To be sure, the boy wasn't hurt; indeed, his host treated him royally. But when you consider all angles of it, you can perhaps understand how it must have seemed back home.

WHERE NEWS TRAVELS SLOWLY

Radios, newspapers and movies have made the dissemination of news in this country an extremely rapid and thorough affair. But evidently we still have our blind spots.

At any rate, a very aged Louisiana backwoodsman was taken into Federal Court at Baton Rouge the other day for distilling whiskey, and he confessed that he had never heard of the prohibition law at all. Questioned further, he brought out the fact that he was not even sure the Civil War had ended—although, to be sure, he had heard rumors.

One wonders just what sort of isolated hole-in-the-wall this chap could have inhabited. Some newspaper ought to be able to pick up a few subscribers there.

SOMEBODY OUGHT TO TELL HER

Professor Einstein, the big relativity and curved space man from Berlin, is going about United States in a new raincoat, bought for him by Frau Einstein a day or two before he sailed.

Frau Einstein, we suppose, hasn't heard that United States is dry.

OBITUARY

DEATH OF JAMES WILLIAM MOREASH

Word reached Macleod Tuesday morning of the death in the Calgary General Hospital Tuesday night of J. W. Moreash who was taken to the Calgary hospital three weeks ago. Mr. Moreash has been in the tailoring and gents' outfitting business in Macleod for upwards of 20 years and was well known in the community. He filled many high offices in the Masonic lodge and his funeral will be a Masonic one. Mr. Moreash is survived by his widow and two daughters. The funeral will be held Thursday, Dec. 18th with Masonic honors.

DEATH OF PHILIP HARDRESS BROOKS

A large congregation filled Christ Church (Anglican) Macleod, on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 17th, at the funeral service of Philip Hardress Brooks, who died at the Macleod General Hospital on Monday, December 15th, 1930. The beautiful English Church burial service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. F. Randall Powell, M.A., the full choir gave a very fine rendering of Tennyson's immortal hymn, "Crossing the Bar."

The late Mr. Brooks was born in England and was 54 years of age, being born on April 15th, 1876. He was married in England on March 17th, 1898, and came to Canada and Macleod in 1909 with his family. Mrs. Brooks predeceased him over three years on April 15th, 1927.

They are survived by their three sons, Sydney Ernest Philip, of Calgary; Ivor Philip Edward and John Edgar Frank, both of Macleod. Mr. Brooks is also survived by three sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Arthur Hatch, Medicine Hat, Alberta; Mrs. J. McPherson, Whitley Bay, England; Mrs. M. Chamberlain, London, England; William Brooks, London, England; James Brooks, New York.

Mr. Brooks has been an employee of the C. P. R. ever since he came to Macleod, and was very highly respected by his fellow employees and by a large circle of friends in the town. Evidence of this respect was shown by the numerous floral tributes sent by sympathizing friends.

The pall-bearers were: Tom Clarke, Fred Thewlis, John Arthur, W. J. Ryan, Richard Gillespie and J. Roger Hunt.

DEATH OF GEORGE WILLIAM THEW

The funeral took place on Tuesday from McFarquhar's funeral home, of George William Thew, who died in Macleod on December 13, at the ripe old age of 72 years.

The deceased was born in Toronto, Ontario, and came to Alberta 40 years ago. He farmed for quite a number of years about four miles south of Macleod, where they raised a large family of six sons and three daughters, who all survive him, but all have left the Macleod district.

The family left Macleod 10 or 12 years ago, moving to the Peace River country, where Mrs. Thew died. Mr. Thew returned to Macleod about four years ago, where he has been doing odd jobs as a carpenter. The funeral service was conducted by the Salvation Army Captain, Mr. Wier, and the three daughters were present, one from Kalispel, Mont., and

THE EXAMPLE

A farmer, being elected to the school board, visited the village school and tested the intelligence of the class by this question:

"Now, boys, can any of you tell me what naething is?"
After a moment's silence a small boy in a back seat rose.
"It's what ye gie'd me the other day, for holding yer horse."—Tick Talk.

Time heals all wounds, and few ex-soldiers would lick a lieutenant now if they had a chance.

HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION — DIPHTHERIA SHOULD GO!

For some years we have known how to prevent diphtheria. Considering the fear which parents have of that disease, it might have been expected that they would have made every effort to secure protection for their children.

No such effort has been made by the parents. Diphtheria is a rare disease in only a comparatively small number of communities, where, thanks to the persistent efforts of the health authorities, a large percentage of the parents have had their children immunized against diphtheria.

In Canada, many thousands of children have received the injections of diphtheria toxoid, a harmless substance, which, we may say, possesses magic power. It is harmless, and it is able, when injected in the body, to cause the body to produce protective forces against diphtheria.

When these protective forces have been produced, the individual is immunized against diphtheria. We speak of the injecting of diphtheria toxoid into the body as diphtheria immunization.

The process is a simple one, and young children are seldom, if ever, ill following the injection. This is one reason for doing the immunizations in early life, but it is not the chief one. Early action is important because diphtheria is a disease which occurs in its greatest severity among little children between the sixth month and the fifth year of life.

We can say with assurance that diphtheria should go because we know how to make it disappear. It has been proved over and over again that it can be driven out by the use of diphtheria toxoid. There is no reason why in the year 1929, over nine hundred lives should have been sacrificed to this one disease in our country. There is no reason why ten times that number should have suffered from an attack of diphtheria which permanently injures many of those who recover from an attack.

Diphtheria continues its deadly work in our midst, killing and maiming our children because, individually, we fail to take the necessary action to protect our little ones from the attacks of this disease.

We may admire and applaud the results of medical research. We may say how wonderful it is that diphtheria should have been added to the list of preventable diseases. What we think or say, however, will not save one life; it is what we do that counts.

Diphtheria toxoid, if left in a bottle, will not protect the child; it must be injected into his body and thus be given the opportunity to produce protective forces.

Diphtheria should go. Will you, by having your own children immunized, do your part in sending it into the oblivion where it belongs?

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

HE DID

When the report went around that Rudyard Kipling was getting a shilling a word for something he was writing, some Oxford students set about a rag. Writing him a shilling, they said, "Please send us one of your words."

And right back came the answer, "Thanks."—Unidentified clipping.

The Germans have gone fascist. Evidently the trouble of making up their own minds wasn't so much fun, after all.

LIEUT.-COL. LEONARD DEAD, PROMINENT CANADIAN GAVE FREELY TO CAUSE OF EDUCATION IN ONTARIO

St. Catharines, Ont., Dec. 17. —(By the Canadian Press.)—Lt.-Col. Reuben Wells Leonard, 70, prominent Canadian engineer and philanthropist, died here this morning.

Col. Leonard's benefactions were many and generous and while the cause of education in Ontario received particular assistance, his contributions towards Canadian and British causes were noteworthy. Included among these was the purchase and delivery to the British government of Chatham House, London.

While a civil engineer by profession, Col. Leonard entered the financial world 25 years ago, interesting himself particularly in Ontario mines. His ventures were successful. He was for many years president of Coniagas Mines, Limited, a silver mine, and one of the most profitable in the Cobalt area.

Col. Leonard first entered railway construction work with the C. P. R. and was staff officer of transport during the Northwest Rebellion in 1885. He was also engineer of the first electrical development at Niagara Falls and later of the enlargement of the Dominion Power and Transmission company's plant at Decew Falls, Ont.

RT. HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING'S BIRTHDAY

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 17.—Rt. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King was the recipient today of felicitations from many parts of Canada, and from overseas on attaining his 56th birthday. The Dominion Liberal leader and former prime minister is residing in Laurie House here and is enjoying excellent health.

Mr. King was born in Berlin, Ont., renamed Kitchener during the Great War, on Dec. 17, 1874.

WHEN WINTER COMES

With the colder weather the wise parent will be taking time by the forelock, and looking well to the ways of her household. Children of tender years are peculiarly susceptible to the changes of climate and "register" in their bodies the rises of temperature that are observable when Chinook winds blow.

According to the day so shall the diet be, it has been said. When winter comes is the time for nourishing foods of body-building, energising quality. The engines of the body, like that of our motor cars must burn the right type of fuel to enable us to carry on most efficiently. In correcting the errors of a careless and unbalanced diet lies the secret of a restored health and strength in many cases.

While the world's shop windows are filled with the wonderful products of the earth, garnered from all quarters of the globe, it is certainly a reproach to find how many women pass them by for the delicatessen store at the corner where ready made meals are so often inadequate in the very building material that should be presented to the family table.

You are invited to study your family's needs now winter is here, and for that purpose the Red Cross offers free, a valuable book entitled "The Family Food Supply." Write to 407 Civic Block, Edmonton.

One surprising thing you learn in England is that the people don't speak the true Hollywood British.

Another revolution in South America. The camera men have landed and have the situation well in hand.

XMAS FOR THE KIDDIES

There perhaps isn't much for us older folk to celebrate with this Xmas, but we must try to see that conditions interfere as little as possible with the Xmas of the young folk, for after all Xmas is pretty much theirs alone.

Prices are down a little from last year, but alas!—not in keeping with the price of wheat.

Our stocks of Nuts, Fruits, Candy and Chocolates are fresh and complete, and we shall try to help you make your money go around.

Despite the fact that the prices of what we have to sell are out of line with the prices of what we must buy we can still have a Merry Xmas.

A special meeting of the board of trustees of the Macleod public school was held on Saturday afternoon last, for the purpose of filling the vacancy on the school staff caused by the resignation of Miss Gwendolyn Martin. From a number of applications, Miss Lillian Andrews was appointed. Miss Andrews is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Andrews, Macleod, and received all her public and high school training in the Macleod schools. She has been teaching for the past two years and a half at Allenfields school, south of Macleod.

Pompoms in delightful shades graced the banquet tables at the Marquis hotel, Lethbridge, on Friday evening when the members of the Shriners entertained their wives and lady friends. A number of guests from out of town were present and added much to the evening's enjoyment. A splendid address was given by the illustrious Potentate from Calgary, Mr. Robert A. Brown, and a toast to the ladies was proposed by Mr. T. Ridpath and responded to by Mrs. R. W. Winter. Mayor Swinerton of Macleod was chairman for the evening. A pleasing feature was the presentation by Mrs. Winter, of a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums to Mrs. Brown of Calgary, from the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Shrine. Evans, reeve; Harry Bester, Tom Bailey, Joe Horner, Hugh McLean, Peter Koole. They had a long meeting, taken up principally in discussing a number of minor routine matters. The accounts for the month were presented and passed for payment. The question of the annual election came up for consideration, and Wm. McNair was appointed returning officer. The divisions and the retiring councillors this year are: Division 4, Joseph Horner; division 5, Hugh McLean; division 6, Peter Koole. The deputy returning officers appointed were: Division 4, E. S. Tweed, Dr. Fanset. The principal business transacted was the approving of the applications to be placed on the voters list of a number of names submitted by the Secretary-Treasurer. A number of Water and Light accounts in arrears were discussed and a number were written off, as also was a number of rent accounts. A number of communications were read and discussed, and the monthly accounts as passed by the finance committee were passed for payment. The application of the Public School Trustees for $3200.00 as the final payment for the year was passed for payment.

Families of opposite political faiths, the heads having sat in the House of Commons, are to be linked up by the imminent marriage of Miss Telford, of Owen Sound, and Mr. Grier Rider Davis, of Macleod. The bride's father is a former Liberal member for North Grey, a constituency which her grandfather also represented. Mr. Davis, as every old time Southern Albertan knows, is a son of a man who was famous in the public life of early Alberta. D. W. Davis was the first man sent to represent this part of the West at Ottawa. No history of Southern Alberta could be written without the name of D. W. Davis figuring prominently in it. Miss Telford has been a member of the High School staff at Macleod, and she is a niece of Mrs. J. W. McDonald, wife of the Alberta Liberal leader. So you see there is plenty of political color surrounding this popular young couple.
